- c) Customer's Free Margin is less than the Initial Margin.

5.8. The Client shall only give Instructions through the Client Terminal. To avoid problems associated with the inability to open or close positions, we recommend using Pending Orders such as Stop Loss and Take Profit.

Transactions

5.9. The Ask price is used to make a "buy" Transaction. The Bid price is used to make a "sell" Transaction:

- a) The Ask price is used to open a Long Position. The Bid price is used to open a Short Position.
- b) The Bid price is used to close a Long Position (i.e. sell). The Ask price is used to close a Short Position (i.e. buy)

Rollovers

5.10. All the positions which remain open from 23:59:45 to 23:59:59 (Server time) will be subject to rollover. All the positions which are opened or closed from 23:59:45 to 23:59:59 (Server time) may be subject to rollover. In the case of any Disputes arising in regard to the break in Quotes Flow, all decisions are made in accordance with the synchronized Quotes Base.

Leverage

5.13. The size of the Leverage depends on the Customer's Open Positions as described on the Company's Trading Terms Webpage.

5.14. The Company has the right to change the Leverage of the Trading Account with immediate effect without giving prior notice.

5.15. The Company is entitled to apply new margin requirements amended in accordance with clause 5.14 to the new positions and to the positions which are already open.

6.0. Opening a Position

6.1. In order to give an Instruction to open a position the Customer shall specify the following:

- a) Instrument; and
- b) Transaction Size

6.2. In order to open a position through the Client Terminal without using an Expert Advisor, the Customer shall press the "Buy by Market" or "Sell by Market" button. The Customer's Instruction to open a position may be executed at a price that differs from the Quote the Customer has received through the Client Terminal during the last Market Snapshot in the following cases:

- a) If the current Quote changes since the last Market Snapshot;
- b) If the Quote from the last Market Snapshot is for a lower Transaction Size than the Client's Instruction Transaction Size.

In any case the Instruction will be executed at the best price available from the Company's Liquidity Providers. 6.3. When opening a position through the Client Terminal using an Expert Advisor, the Customer is not able to specify Stop Loss and/or Take Profit Order levels. If the Customer wishes to place these Orders, the Customer can do it by modifying the existing position in accordance with clauses 8.16 to 8.22.

Instruments Quoted in the Instant Execution Mode

6.4. In order to open a position through the Client Terminal without using an Expert Advisor, the Customer shall press the "Buy" or "Sell" button the moment the Customer is satisfied with the prices in the Quotes Flow.

6.5. In order to open a position through the Client Terminal using an Expert Advisor, the Instruction must be generated at the current Quote.

Instruments Quoted in the Request Execution Mode

6.6. In order to open a position through the Client Terminal without using an Expert Advisor, the Customer shall send a Request. The Customer may open a position at the offered Quote by pressing the "Buy" or "Sell" button. The Company has the right to revoke the Quote if the Customer has not sent an Instruction within 3 (three) seconds of receiving the Quote or if the market moves and the Quote becomes irrelevant.

6.7. In order to open a position through the Client Terminal using an Expert Advisor, the EA generates a Request. If the Company offers a Quote, which differs from the EA's Quote by not more than the "slippage" value (the EA's parameter which determines the acceptable range between the EA's Quote and the Quote offered by the Company), the EA gives the Instruction to the Server to open a position at the Quote offered by the Company.

Processing and Execution of Instructions to Open a Position

6.8 Once the Server has received the Customer's Instruction to open a position, it automatically checks if the Free Margin is sufficient to open the position:

- a) "Free Margin" is calculated as follows: $\text{Free Margin} = \text{Balance} - \text{New Margin} + \text{Floating Profit} - \text{Floating Loss}$;
- b) all Floating Profits/Losses for all Open Positions and the new position are calculated at the current Quotes;
- c) cumulative Customer positions and new Necessary Margin ("New Margin") are calculated for the Matched Positions depending on the Hedged Margin; for other positions this is dependent on the Initial Margin, which is calculated at the average weighted price (in terms of volume) of all positions except the matched ones;
- d) if the above-mentioned calculations for the new position have been done and:

"Free Margin" is more or equals to zero, the position is opened. The process of opening the position is followed by the relevant record in the Server Log File;

"Free Margin" is less than zero, then the Company has the right to decline the Instruction to open the position and the "No money" message will be recorded in the Server Log-File.

6.9. The Company has the right to requote if the current Quote changes whilst a Dealer processes a Customer's Request or Instruction. The requote window will be enabled if in the "Order" window there is a tick in the "Enable maximum deviation from quoted price" tick box and the "Maximum deviation" field value equals zero.

If the Customer does not press the "OK" button within 3 seconds, the Quote becomes invalid and it will be concluded that the Customer refuses to open a position.

6.10. An Instruction to open a position shall be deemed executed and the position shall be deemed open once the relevant record appears in the Server Log File.

6.11. In the Trading Platform, each Open Position has a Ticker.

6.12. An Instruction to open a position will be declined by the Company if it precedes the first Quote in the Trading Platform on the Market Opening. In this case the "Off quotes" message appears in the Client Terminal window.

7.0. Closing a Position

7.1. In order to give an Instruction to close a position, the Customer shall specify the following:

- a) Ticker; and
- b) Transaction Size

7.2. In order to close a position through the Client Terminal without using an Expert Advisor, the Customer shall press the "Close by Market" button. The Customer's Instruction to close a position may be executed at a price that differs from the Quote the Customer has received through the Client Terminal during the last Market Snapshot in the following cases:

- a) If the current Quote changes since the last Market Snapshot;
- b) If the Quote from the last Market Snapshot is for a lower Transaction Size than the Client's Instruction Transaction Size.

In all instances, the Instruction will be executed at the best price available from the Company's Liquidity Providers.

Processing and Execution of Instructions to Close a Position

7.3 The Company has the right to requote if the current Quote changes whilst a Dealer processes a Customer's Request or Instruction. The requote window will be enabled if in the "Order" window there is a tick in the "Enable maximum deviation from quoted price" tick box and the "Maximum deviation" field value equals zero⁵. If the Customer does not press the "OK" button within three seconds, the Quote becomes invalid and it will be concluded that the Customer refuses to close a position.

7.4. If amongst the Customer's Open Positions the Customer has a position which he/she wishes to close against a matching Open Position of the same Instrument, the Customer can do so by using the "Close by" item in the "Type" drop down list. Upon matching/closing the Customer's chosen positions, the Customer will have either a zero or net Long/Short Position based upon the net overall exposure. The Customer should note that the net overall position will be allocated a new Ticker.

7.5. If amongst the Customer's Open Positions the Customer has multiple positions which he/she wishes to close against matching Open Positions of the same Instrument, the Customer can do so by using the "Multiple Close by" item in the "Type" drop down list. Upon matching/closing the chosen positions the Customer will have either a zero or net Long/Short Position based upon the net overall exposure. The Customer should note that the net overall position will be allocated a new Ticker.

If the maximum deviation is above zero, the Server does not provide the Client Terminal with a new Quote and opens a position at the new Quote if the difference between the previous and the new Quote, offered by the Dealer, is lower or equals the value indicated for the maximum deviation. Therefore, the new Quote, in the predefined range, can be better or worse than the previous Quote.

7.6. An Instruction to close a position is deemed executed and the position is deemed closed once the relevant record appears in the Server Log File.

7.7. An Instruction to close a position will be declined by the Company if the Instruction precedes the first Quote on the Market Opening. In this case the "Off quotes" message appears in the Client Terminal window.

7.8. An Instruction to close a position will be declined by the Company if it is made when the Stop Loss or Take Profit for this position is in the queue in order to be executed. In this case the "Off quotes" message appears in the Client Terminal window.

8.23. Once the Pending Order is placed in the queue in order to be executed, the Server automatically checks if the Free Margin is sufficient to open the position:

- a) cumulative Customer positions and new Necessary Margin ("New Margin") are calculated: for Matched Positions depending on the Hedged Margin;
- b) for other positions this is dependent on the Initial Margin, which is calculated at the average weighted price (in terms of volume) of all positions except the matched ones;
- c) if the Pending Order Level is in the Price Gap, the Floating Profits/Losses for all Open Positions and the new position are calculated at the current Quotes at the moment the Order is placed in the queue in order to be executed;
- d) "Free Margin" is calculated as follows: $\text{Free Margin} = \text{Balance} - \text{New Margin} + \text{Floating Profit} - \text{Floating Loss}$;
- e) if the above-mentioned calculations for the new position have been done and: "Free Margin" is more or equals to zero, the position is opened. The process of opening the position is followed by the relevant record in the Server Log File and the position opened by this Order has the same Ticker as the Pending Order; "Free Margin" is less than zero, then the Company has the right to decline the Instruction to open the position and delete the Pending Order and the "No money" message will be recorded in the Server Log File.

The Company has the right to adjust this price to reflect the cost of hedging. The Customer acknowledges that the execution price may differ from the Order Level.

8.28. Pending Order can be executed partially if there is not enough Liquidity to hedge the trade with Liquidity Providers at the Order Level. Under Abnormal Market Conditions, the Company reserves the right to reject any Pending Order.

8.29. If there is more than one Dealer, depending on the amount of time a Dealer needs to handle the Customer's Request or an Instruction, there is a possibility that in the Server Log File the recorded execution time of the first Request or Instruction in the queue will be later than the execution time of the Request or Instruction which followed after.
